

The Fund seeks to provide investment results that, before expenses, track the performance of the Syntax Stratified SmallCap Index. Using the Stratified Weight methodology, the fund re-weights and rebalances the stocks contained in the S&P 600 index. Compared to capitalization weighted indexes, the Stratified approach may provide investors with the following potential advantages:

Reduce the negative impact of a significant correction in an overweight sector

Increase the chance of participating in all sectors during a market rally

Capture a fuller range of market opportunities

Syntax Indices are a new class of indices that reweight the most widely used benchmarks using the Stratified Weight methodology. Their objective is to deliver a diversified return across all of the business opportunities in a benchmark rather than just the largest. Syntax Stratified Indices were developed in conjunction with a patented business classification system called the Functional Information System (FIS) built by Locus Analytics. FIS provides the technology used to identify business risks in a portfolio. Syntax Indices are developed and maintained by Syntax LLC, Syntax Advisors' parent company. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than that shown here. *The Adviser has contractually agreed to waive and/or reimburse certain fees/expenses until May 1, 2022. Performance would have been lower without fee waivers/expense reimbursements in effect. Index Performance is total return, gross of dividends, not including fees. It is not possible to invest in an Index. Fund performance is net of all fees. Periods greater than one year have been annualized.
